
For reading matter see News Section of this issue

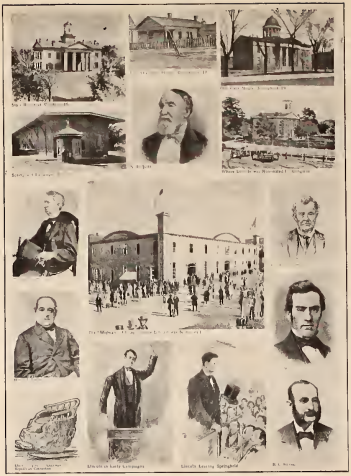
Lincoln and the Army

Death of Lincoln and Funeral Obsequies

The Conspirators and Capture

Lincoln Memorials and Relics

Lincoln in Politics

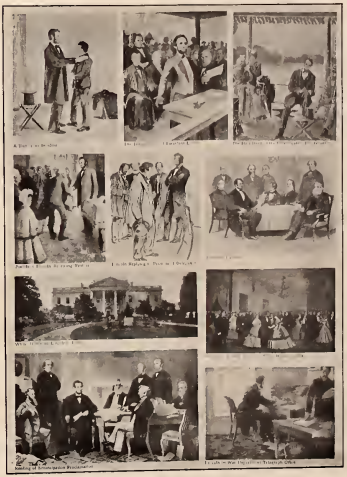


Miscellaneous Incidents

Lincoln and Family

The illustrations in this supplement were furnished by the Illustrated Supplement Company, publishers of "American History Told in Pictures," a collection of one thousand illustrations, pictorially describing the great events and leading participants in American History from the Discovery of the Continent to the present time, and printed on cards 5x7 inches with descriptive text on the reverse side of each card. This is the most exhaustive collection of pictures relating to American History ever brought together in one publication. In the preparation of this work the leading libraries, historical museums and collections in the United States have been searched for old prints, etchings and other illustrated material. A complete catalogue of subjects, sample cards, prices and other information concerning this publication will be furnished, upon request, by the Illustrated Supplement Company, 220 Fifth Avenue, New York.

Lincoln in the White House



Buildings Associated with Lincoln's Life

Boyhood Haunts of Lincoln

Early Incidents in Lincoln's Life

Early Incidents in Lincoln's Life